Friend and Prospective Customer:-

Some time ago you asked me to send you one of my emblem catalogs, which was sent immediately upon receipt of your request. Surely you were interested in emblems or my agency proposition, otherwise you would not have written to me.

I figure there must be some reason why I have not heard from you. So I am sending you this letter to ask just what the reason is. Surely I can serve you-- six emblem factories making nothing but emblems are at your service. Service is my first and last name. My Iron Clad Guarantee as usual and always; your money back if not satisfied. Send that trial order right now or we both lose. Take advantage of my special free offer below. I am,

Yours truly,

EDW. L. MORRIS.
