Introduction/ Scope and contents

Collection P 011: Durango Herald photonegatives collection 1955-1992 (bulk years 1956-1976)

approximately 21,000 photonegatives (in 8,695 sleeves in 23 negative storage boxes, plus items in 1 records box and 1 document case)

This collection is useful for anyone studying Durango (Colo.) in the mid-20th century. It consists of thousands of black and white photonegatives (most of them, 4 x 5 safety film -- and a document case full of three years of 35 mm strips of film, 1974-1976) and a relatively small number of contact prints of some negatives, taken from 1950 through 1975 for use in the Durango daily newspaper. The images are only partially identified. The Center recently (within the 2004-05 school year) began cataloging them at the item level. Due to their chronological arrangement, they are most useful to someone who has a reference date. Identifications are possible by comparing these images with photos that the Herald published during those years. Those newspaper issues are available at the Center (see http://swcenter.fortlewis.edu/inventory/swnewspapers.htm for details of the Center's newspaper holdings).
